

2 Day Landscape Painting Workshop
with Thomas Kegler
Friday July 1st, and Saturday July 2nd 2022

Emery Park

South Wales, NY

"Go first to nature to learn to paint landscape... and find in her beauties all the great first principles of Art"
Asher B. Durand – Letters on Landscape Painting, 1885, The Crayon

Come join me for a memorable 2 day landscape painting workshop at one of the areas most beautiful natural attractions at Emery Park in Western New York.

The approach to traditional American landscape painting in the 19th Century involved spending much time immersing yourself in the outdoors. This landscape workshop will focus on understanding the anatomy of the landscape through gathering field studies in the form of sketches, notes and plein air paintings. These investigative works can also potentially be used as reference for a future large studio painting. This class is geared for all levels of skill from beginner to advanced students. This workshop is modeled after the techniques and philosophy of the Hudson River School of the mid 1800's.

Students will be guided through processes of color mixing and brushwork, as well as how to cope with ever changing weather and lighting conditions. Discussions on composition, value, color, edges, aesthetics, atmospheric perspective, theory, nature, and distilling the visual will also be offered.

Investigating the individual visual elements that compose a landscape is integral to "understanding" nature. Ultimately, the artist will share this experience in the form of an evocative painting. Thomas will demonstrate approaches to capturing the landscape through gathering visual information without the need/reliance on photographic reference. Students will begin by searching out a potential concept, motif and composition(s) via thumbnail drawings. The workshop's focus will then transfer to the students hands-on painting.

Although I will demonstrate a new painting and theme each day, participants are encouraged to work at their own pace. You may choose to work on one single painting for the 2 days, or keep pace at one per day.
